Apprehensions of More Stringent Conditions Lead to a General Selling Movement-Declines Throughout the List in the Early Operations-Slight Changes in London.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- There were prac tically no developments of any financial importance over Sunday and upon the opening of business in the Stock Market this morning interest centred almost wholly around the monetary situation as indicated in Saturday's bank statement. Apprehensions of more stringent conditions led to quite general selling of securities, and declines which extended to about one point were noted throughout the market.

American Steel and Wire and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were particularly weak and material declines appeared in the granger shares and the railway list gen-The London market for American stocks

Remembrance of Saturday's very disappointing bank statement and f ar of tighter money this week caused a d cline in prices in the Stock Market this mornin prices in the Stock Market this morning. The entire list went off fractionally before il o'clock. The cullook was not for a serious break, but on the other hand there is little to encourage the belief that there will be much of an upward movement at this time. The more hand for some days to come, at kast, with the probability of a slight downward tendency.

The expectation of higher money rates is well founded. It cannot be seen how a sharp advance in the rate on call 1 ars a snarp advance in the rate on Call Fans can be avoided. The surplus of reserves in the New York banks has nearly dis-appeared, and a month or more of de-mands from the West is yet to be look-ed for. The hope that gold may be drawn from London has some basis, but it should be remembered that London has not enough gold itself, and will probably do all it can to prevent losing any more. An advance in the Bank of England discount rate is predicted for this week. This expectation of tigh emoney rates, however, can be serviseable only in the immediate market. As has been pointed out frequently of lite others in twelve games.

The coal stocks were inclined to weakness during the first hour today, but no break of importance need be look-ed for in the group. The annual statement of the Readin ening the confidence of holders of the ening the confidence of holders of the Reading stocks. Gross earnings were $56,000,000, expenses $45,000,000, and fixed charges a little over $9,000,000. The surplus for the year was therefore nearly $2,000,000. These figures compare excellently with those of a year ago, which were in turn the best on record up that time. Gross earnings increased $9,000,000. The surplus increases $72,000. From the wording of the report it does not seem probable that any increase in the 3 per probable that any increase in the 3 per cent dividend rate will be made. surplus fund of the company is $2,253,000, and this, it is pointed out by the report, is only about two-thirds of one month's operating expenses. This may be a disappointment to some.

The earnings of the Big Four for the fourth week of September show an increase of $65,235, for the month an increase of $21,628, and for the fiscal year to date an increase of $215,272. It is said by officers of the company that its present business is the finest it has ever done. Traffic is increasing steadily and rates have improved

The grangers went off somewhat this morning, but were supported by investment and speculative buying.

Tennessee Coal and Iron went up a poin at the opening this morning, but later de-clined to below the opening price. It is probable that the stock will not be in fafor for a time owing to the hasty way in which it was manipulated by the insiders last week on the strength of the dividend uncertainty. People who may have no other foundation for their pessimism than their soreness at this business are now saying that the declaration of the dividend was a rash move to make.

Cotton was strong this morning. The January and March options sold above 10 cents. This will help the Southern Railway securities generally, it is thought.

Only a Corrupt Form of Dutch Spoken in Flanders. (From the London Mail.)
The question whether Flemish or French shall be the prevailing language in Belgium is a matter that is regarded quite seriously there. It cannot be agreed, even in Belgium, whether or not Flemish is a language. Some of the leading authorities, among whom are prominent Flemings, declare that Flemish is nothing but a corrupt form of Dutch, a dialect spoken in Flan-ders, just as the tongue of Yorkshire is an English dialect, or any patois a cor-

The grammar of the Flemish language is the Dutch grammar, the dictionary is the Dutch dictionary, and yet the radical Flemish faction has been clamoring in the Senate and Chamber for years to have Flemish made the official language of Bel-gium, when not one-half of the inhabi-tants of the country understand it.

At present all laws, official rules, regu lations and decrees are printed in both languages, and in court a Fleming can insist on being heard in Fleming if he so

There is no doubt that the language of Fianders was formerly identical with the Dutch, but that after the separation of Flanders from the Netherlands the language of the country is nothing but a political stratagem for gaining the favor of the Flemish-speaking neonless.
